October 2022, Volume 10—Think Pink

This month ends our regular season play for 2022. And what a season it was! We had some great monthly themes and you were all game dressing up for them and engaging in the festive atmosphere.

Through the Golf Gossip, we met some of your puppies and kitties, Patti Parker gave us rule advice on 12 different important golf rules, you met two new Board members—Gail Ellingwood and Margaret Fay, we celebrated Women's Golf Day, Melinda Johnson serenaded us on her ukulele, we drove to Fallon for our annual Home 'N Home bringing home a boat-load of booty, congratulated Linda Davis as our President's Cup Winner, congratulated Tracy Asleson as our Club Champion, participated in five HSTP tournaments, helped out with the Wounded Warrior Golf Tournament, and ended our season with a fantastic turnout for our closing luncheon at the Carson Valley Country Club.

Thank you, ladies, for showing up and having fun. I was proud and thankful to be your President these last two years and am looking forward to playing with you next season.

Kelly King.
President

Dear Patti Patti Parker's Monthly Rules Advice Column

Dear Patti, I was playing with my group of two and we had the same make and color of ball. I hit the ball and it was not mine. What do I do now? It simply looked like my ball.

Signed, Accidents Happen

Dear Accidents Happen,

You are correct accidents do happen. Unfortunately you played the wrong ball. You get a general penalty which is two strokes (yes, that's right a TWO-stroke penalty). Once you have identified that you played the wrong ball, replace both balls to their original place and then play out the hole adding the two-stroke penalty to your score for that hole.

The best way to avoid being accident prone is to always make some kind of identifying mark on your ball in the future. USGA rules allow you pick up your ball to verify it is your ball. However, there is a protocol to follow covered under USGA Rule 14. Click on this link to watch a short video explaining both Rule 6.3c and Rule 14 for the protocol for picking up your ball to identify it: Rule 6.3c Explained

Twelve golfers showed up Tuesday, October 25th for the first round of off-season golf. What a beautiful golf day it turned out to be.
